EXTENSIVE CHANGES are to be made in the S. S. Lurline, and when these changes have been made it is said she will somewhat resemble the Withelmina. The Lurline will make one more round trip after the present one and then be put into the hands of mechanics for alterations. The breaks in the decks of the Lurline will be filled in and more staterooms added There will be other changes which will be the moving of the purser's room and smoking room to other locations. When the alterations are complete the Lurline will have double the capacity for passengers that she has at present.

THE HONOLULUAN is looked for to arrive at this port sometime dur-ing January of next year. The Honoluluan has been chartered by the Matson line from the American-Hawatian company. She is a freighter but will be fitted in first class shape to accommodate about forty passengers.
